

Solowork on Chapter

7

Falling, hiding or climbing?

Put your own interpretation on the figures below. Some are climbing up by themselves or with the help of others. Some are building themselves a secure platform. Some are falling. Some are burying their heads in the sand. Some are even sawing the tree branch that's supporting someone else. Where do you see yourself? If you're not satisfied with that position, what are you going to do about it?
